PREFACE.

 VERY natural desire to know the names and origin of his ancestors, prompted the writer to make the necessary researches, and compile from local history and family records this genealogy. For the gratification of numerous members of the family who have shown an interest in the work, and of himself, as well as for the benefit of future generations, it has been put into its present form for preservation. Although not a complete genealogy of the family, it will be found very nearly so in respect to the descendants of the elder son of the emigrant ancestor.

Some liberty has been taken with a few of the records; names which were evidently improperly written in the diminutive, have been recorded in their proper forms, and the modern names of localities have in every case been substituted for the ancient ones.

The arrangement, the simplest and best one known to the writer, will be no doubt readily understood by those into whose hands the book may fall, and by it the individual members of the family can easily trace their lineage to the common ancestor.

The writer requests that where a mistake or an omission is discovered, a correction of the mistake, or the data to supply the omission, may be forwarded to him, so that it may be entered in a copy kept for that purpose to serve to render a possible future edition more complete.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 4, 1876.

INTRODUCTORY.

THE name Chapman is one of a large class of English surnames that is derived from the names of trades or occupations. It is of Saxon origin, and the original word, ceapman, means a purchaser, a buyer or a merchant. It is one of the oldest of English surnames, and was adopted, according to local history, as early as the twelfth century.

In the United States there are several extensive families of the name of Chapman, descendants of the early settlers of that name in New England, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. A list of these, who were probably not in the remotest degree related, and who emigrated at different times and from widely separated localities, is given below :

London, for Virginia, Aug. 7, 1635, aged 26. Robert Chapman* settled in Connecticut in 1635. John Chapman appears among a list of planters in New Haven in 1643. Edward Chapman had a land grant at Ipswich in 1644. Robert Chapman was one of the earliest settlers of New Hampshire. William Chapman appears in the records of New London, Conn., in 1657. Edward Chapman appears in the records of Windsor, Conn., in 1660.

Besides the above, the name occurs in the early records of Rhode Island, and in Pennsylvania one of the name of Chapman settled about Penn's time; his descendants are now very numerous in that state.

Ralph Chapman, second in the list of names given above, emigrated from the parish of St. Saviors, Southwark,† County Surrey, England, in April 1635, as appears by the following record from "The Register of the names of all ye passengers who passed from ye Port of London for an whole yeare ending at X mas 1635 :

date of the foregoing record, and the little that is known of his subsequent career or of his immediate descendants, can be told in a very few words. He probably settled in Duxbury on his arrival in Plymouth Colony, although no mention is made of him in the records until 1640, five years after his departure from London. In that year he was a resident of Duxbury, and had some land granted to him, as appears from the following record:

“At a Court of Assistants held at Plymouth aforesaid
“the first day of June, in the xvi yeare of the now raigne
“of our Souveraigne Lord Charles, by the Grace of “God King of England, &c.

“Before William Bradford, Gent., Gov. Thomas

“and Ralph Chapman of Duxborrow are granted foure
“acres apeece of upland abutting upon the Stony Brooke
“in Duxborrow, by the milne, and to rang* North and “South in length, and East and West in breadth.” †

Two years after he was granted land as follows:

“At the General Court of our Souveraigne Lord
“Charles, by the Grace of God King of England, &c., “March 7, 1642, Ralph Chapman is granted a parcel of “land lying at Namassacuset, to that he hath bought of

In 1645 he bought a ferry privilege at New Harbor Marshes of Robert Barker, and soon after petitioned the Court to excuse him, "as it would bring him to extreme poverty," which they did, except on special occasions, as bringing over the magistrates.*

Two or three unimportant records show that he became a resident of the town of Marshfield about the year 1650. He lived there until his death, which took place in the early part of the year 1671, as shown by the following Court record:

"Att the Court of his Majestie held att Plymouth, for
"the jurisdiction of New Plymouth, the fifth day of "March, Anno Dom. 1671—

"Before Thomas Prence, Esquire, Gov. John Alden,
"William Bradford, Josiah Winslow, Thomas Hin-
"cley, and Nathaniel Bacon, Assistants, &c.

"unto and take care of the said estate for the preserva-
"tion and improvement thereof and of his land, and to
"keep an account of his doeings about it untill the
"Court shall see cause otherwise to order."

An abstract of the Will referred to reads;

Isaac Chapman, the elder son of Ralph, settled at an early age in or near Rochester, Mass., and probably learned his trade of Colonel James Leonard, who had early established a forge at that place. He married Rebecca, Colonel Leonard’s daughter, and about the year 1689 removed to Barnstable, Mass; the exact date is not known, but the following extract of a deed from Henry Cobb of Barnstable, fixes the probable date of the first appearance of the Chapman family on Cape Cod :

“ To all people to whom these presents shall come: Henry Cobb of Barnstable, in the Colony of New Plymouth, in New England, planter, sendeth greeting, &c. Know ye that I, the said Henry Cobb, for a valuable consideration in a certain parcel of upland to me in exchange given by and granted by Isaak Chapman of Barnstable aforesaid, blacksmith, the receipt whereof &c., by these presents do in exchange give, grant, bargain, &c., all that my parcel of upland containing six acres, more or less, and four hundred acres of marsh, be it more or less, lying and being near unto the hill commonly called Cobb’s Hill, and is bounded southerly by the lands of John Davis, and northerly by the lands of Samuel Sarjant, partly by John Davis, and partly by a creek; easterly partly by the highway that leads to Blackinson’s Creek, and partly by a little creek that divides it from the marsh of Jonathan Cobb;

“ and northerly by the said Jonathan Cobb, according “ to the known and ascertained boundaries thereof, &c.
“ In witness whereof, I the said Henry Cobb have here-
“ unto set my hand and seal this twentieth day of De“ cember, Anno Domini one thousand six hundred and “ eighty-nine.”

He settled in the town of Yarmouth, in that part that is now the town of Dennis, Mass., about the year 1696,* and lived there until his death, which occurred in his ninetieth year. The land that he owned there has been in possession of, and the house that he built has ever since been occupied by, his descendants.

Ralph Chapman the younger, son of the emigrant, became a member of the Society of Friends, and early settled in Scittuate, Mass., where he married. He removed from there about the year 1680, and settled in the town of Newport, Rhode Island. The records of the family were kept in the books of the Society until about the year 1720, at which time, from some unknown cause, the family ceased their connection with the Friends at that place. From that time the history of the family is very obscure, and it is only from one of the descendants of the younger Ralph that the family can be traced to the present generation. This one, John Chapman, a grandson of the younger Ralph, left Newport at an early age and settled near Hanover, Mass., where, as the record of his family shows, he died at the remarkable age of one hundred and four years.

Isaac's (32) children. As the early records of the town of Newport were almost entirely destroyed during the Revolutionary war, it is impossible to get the names of the family in the fourth generation. The few members of the Chapman family now living in Newport have a tradition that they are descendants of Ralph Chapman. That they are descendants of Isaac (70), James (71), or John (73), is conjectural.

APPENDIX.

Descendants of John Chapman.

NOTE.—I have been unable to discover the antecedents of JOHN CHAPMAN, of whose descendants the records are given below. From careful examination of old deeds and wills in possession of the family, I have concluded that he was probably a grandson of John Chapman, born May 12, 1681—No. 22 in foregoing records. On account of the uncertainty in regard to the connection of the families here given with the descendants of Ralph Chapman, they are placed by themselves.—C. B. G.

The children of JOHN CHAPMAN* were, as far as known, as follows:

Descendants of Throop Chapman.

THERE are some grounds for the belief that Ralph Chapman had other children than those given in the record. The writer has never seen the original record, but has been told by a person who has seen it, that it is very much worn by frequent handling, and that "there were other names, but they could not be deciphered." The fact that Ralph mentions in his will the "children John and Samuel," and the probability of there having been no children of those names in the second generation at the time of the making of the will, is strong evidence in favor of the belief.

Noticing an inquiry in the New England Historical and Genealogical Magazine in regard to the antecedents of a certain Throop Chapman, it occurred to the writer that there might be some connection between the facts above stated and the fact that Throop,* the Christian name of the Chapman referred to, was the surname of a son-in-law of Ralph Chapman. Upon writing to the person making the inquiry, who is a descendant of Throop Chapman, the writer received the following reply:

"I think that there is little doubt about our family

* Written in the records Throop, Troop or Troup.

“ being descended from Ralph Chapman, although one
 “ link is missing in the chain. As to the age of Throop
 “ Chapman, one of our family remembers to have seen
 “ him while he (Throop) was on a visit from Reedsville,
 “ Vt., to Belchertown, Mass. Throop was said to be “ just ninety-one years old; but whether that was in 1821
 “ or 1823 my informant cannot remember. * * * *

“ By first wife Throop Chapman had Esther, Susannah,
 “ William, Ebenezer, Throop, died Nov. 23, 1775, and “ Mary Throop died Nov. 23, 1775.

“ By second wife Throop Chapman had Jonathan,
 “ Throop, born Aug. 1776, Deborah, Sybil, Isaac, Mary, “ Dorcas.

“ Among the baptisms recorded in the books of the “ Congregational church in Belchertown, Mass., May
 “ 7, 1783, are eight children of Throop Chapman, inclu“ ding Throop and Mary Throop. The determination
 “ to perpetuate these two names is certainly remarkable
 “ if there is no relation between this family and that of
 “ Ralph Chapman.”

*The Throop Chapel - Town of Belchertown
 Mass. - Belchertown, Mass. (1783) - was built for the Throop family*
